Definitions:

Food Allergy: When a child has a food allergy, his/her body responds to food as if it were a threat. The body’s immune system response can be mild or, in rare cases, associated with a severe and life-threatening reaction called anaphylaxis. Allergic reactions are highly unpredictable. The severity of one attack does not predict the severity of the next attack. The only way to prevent a life-threatening reaction is strict avoidance of the allergen.

Food Intolerance: When a child has a food intolerance, it is a reaction of the digestive system and is not dangerous. Although a child may experience gas, bloating, abdominal pain and/or diarrhea, the reactions will pass and the child is not in danger. Children with food intolerances likely do not have prescribed medications for their condition and do not need an EAP. Some common food intolerances are lactose and gluten.
